News Media Subpoenas

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell has retreated from his former position on issuance of subpoenas to the news media and that is good news where the right of the people to freedom of information is concerned.

United Press International reports that Mitchell has authorized only two subpoenas to reporters since he issued strict guidelines in this connection last summer. The guidelines grew out of the protests by the news media after a sudden surge of subpoenas calling for reporters to appear before federal grand juries investigating criminal and civil cases with which the reporters had dealt. The reporters were ordered to submit their notes, unused film and other such material to the grand juries.

At the time the subpoenas were issued, Mitchell defended the practice, contending that it was necessary to obtain information "which might be of some aid in both criminal and civil investigations." The news media objected that the action was an invasion of its First Amendment rights and that, in fact, it constituted in most cases "fishing expeditions," which made the media an investigative arm of the Justice Department. To his credit, Mitchell changed his position and forbade indiscriminate use of such subpoenas.

There can be no question but that requiring reporters to reveal their sources and similar confidential information to grand juries would severely hamper the media in bringing information to the public, information to which it is entitled and which it should be given. Hopefully, the attorney general and the Justice Department will continue to see that this right of the people to know outweighs any investigative help reporters could be forced to give federal investigative agencies. - Dallas (Tex.) Showers in Southern Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A continued decrease in thunderstorms with only isolated activity in the southern half of Arkansas is forecast for the week-end.

Little significant change is expected in the hot and humid conditions through the week-end.

The other two-thirds of the state received the bulk of the thundershowers Tuesday.

Late Tuesday afternoon a large thundershower dumped more than an inch of rain, accompanied by some small hail and wind gusts in excess of 50 miles per hour, at Nashville.

High temperatures climbed into the 90s. Texarkana was the warmest spot at 99. Cooling winds from afternoon thundershowers held Little Rock's high down to 91, the lowest afternoon high in the state.

The frontal system that has been meandering between southern Missouri and central Arkansas has dissipated on the western end and now is stationary from northern Kentucky to Pennsylvania.

Overnight lows around the state include Fayetteville 69, Harrison 70, Jonesboro 72, Pine Bluff 72, Memphis 75, Little Rock 69, Fort Smith 74, Texarkana 71 and El Dorado 69.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. today include .18 of an inch at El Dorado and a trace at Texarkana.

Mixup Over City Council Meeting

Confusion reigned last night as some 37 citizens, mostly property owners in the North Hazel Street area, gathered for a meeting with the City Board of Directors but the Board failed to show.

The Board's regular meeting is 7 p.m. next Tuesday, July 13. The regular meetings are the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month. A spokesman for the City explained that a representative of the citizens group contacted Mrs. Leneta Hare at the city office and requested a meeting with the Board be placed on the agenda for the next meeting. Thus it was set up for the second Tuesday in July, next Tuesday.

Mayor Sam Strong said Wednesday that he is sorry for the confusion and that the Board would be happy to have the group

Industrial Disease of 'One-day' Pneumonia Bothers Bosses Most

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The five diseases Americans probably fear most are cancer, heart attacks, strokes, hydrophobia and tetanus, or lockjaw—although not necessarily in that order.

The industrial disease that bothers personnel executives the most, however, is "one-day pneumonia," the custom many employees have of taking an extra day off preceding or following a holiday.

We might easily make a better world if the time we spend disentangling wire coat hangers in closets were put to a more constructive use.

Among the victims of today's price inflation are cabdrivers and restaurant waiters. They complain that many of their customers, instead of tipping 15 to 20 per cent of the bill, are now doling out 10 to 12 per cent. What are resentful patrons going to do when the nation's hatchback girls start charging four bits to watch their hats, coats and umbrellas?

Practically every U.S. high school pupil used to be able to name the capital and largest city in each of the American states. But today it is doubtful whether two out of five persons over the age of 25 can do so without making at least two to four mistakes.

Maker of Bowie Knives U.S. State Department Reorganizing

LLOYD A. HALE

The Bowie knife will return to historic old Washington as Lloyd A. Hale, a specialist in the field, has begun setting up shop in the former Confederate capitol. According to Hale, the knives will be made in the original site of the James Black Smithy.

Hale, who is from Poway near San Diego, got the idea of setting up such a shop when he passed through the area on a vacation.

"I couldn't believe that no one was building or taking any orders for Bowie knives. I checked with Dean Hughes of Texarkana College and managed to sell my idea. So, after receiving his permission, all that was left was to transfer my equipment and get my offices in order," explained Hale.

Bowie knives are not the only things which Lloyd A. Hale builds to specifications. According to Hale, his first fame came with building guitars. One of his customers was John Phillips of the former singing group, "Mamas and Papas."

Hale's guitars began receiving quite a bit of attention and one day, he was asked to make a Bowie knife.

"I had never made a Bowie knife but what most people don't realize is that each knife is unique—an idea of each owner. All I do is make the knives to their specifications."

Screw Worm Has Officials Concerned

State officials and USDA veterinarians are now concerned over the discovery of screwworm larva in native calves from Bowie County, Texas, and Miller County, Arkansas. This discovery indicates that the infestation was of local origin. In order to combat the infestation, sterile flies are being dropped in the area. About four million sterile flies are being dropped weekly in Southern Oklahoma, Northeast Texas and Southwest Arkansas.

To head off the threat and to enlist greater rancher cooperation throughout the southwest, livestock owners are being asked to inspect their animals regularly, collect larvae for identification, and treat wounds and infestations.

Screwworms are the larvae of a type of blowfly which feed exclusively on the living flesh of warm-blooded animals, including humans. Eggs are laid at the edge of open wounds and the worms or maggots emerge within 12 to 24 hours.

Screwworms mature in 5-7 days and drop to the ground to begin their pupal (cocoon) stage. Untreated infestations cause serious injury or death to the affected animal.

County Extension Agent, Calvin J. Caldwell says: "All wounds on animals, especially castration, and dehorning, should be treated with insecticides and ointments designed to inhibit screwworms from developing. Such materials as Smeat 62 and Korlan ointments are recommended. On routine spray programs, use Coral or Korlan. Inspect all animals prior to movement. Inspect animals regularly. If wounds are infested with any larvae, send samples of these larvae to Dr. Henry Martin, Veterinarian in Charge, Arkansas National Stockyards, Little Rock. Larvae should be placed in a test tube and covered with rubbing alcohol." We will be glad to assist farmers in mailing these samples in the County Extension Agent said.

PARIS (AP) —

The United States and South Vietnam will probe the new Viet Cong peace package at the weekly peace talks session Thursday in an attempt to learn if it offers an acceptable opening toward ending the Vietnam war, allied informants said.

SAIGON (AP) — Laotian government forces pressed a two-pronged offensive against the Plain of Jars today as the war in Vietnam faded to a virtual standstill.

MIAMI (AP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro's regime today announced the exchange of 18 American citizens in Cuba for four Cuban fishermen held prisoner by the United States.

The Havana broadcast carried by Havana Radio followed by several hours the transfer of the four Cubans from an American federal prison to a Cuban fishing boat in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Havana broadcast monitored in Miami said the 18 Americans would receive "all aid in leaving the country once the services and costs that they incurred were paid."

One of the 18 was already in Miami. Fritz Sprandel, 26, a lone canoeist forced ashore in Cuba May 22, was returned to this country Tuesday.

The other Americans—four aboard the yacht White Cloud, five aboard a sloop called the Saturna, and eight crewmen of a Florida tugboat—were expected to begin leaving the Communist island later today.

Havana Radio said that "in this manner the problem is resolved ..." The broadcast referred to the incident involving the imprisonment of the four Cubans in this country and the subsequent detention of the 18 Americans in Cuba.

Five of the Americans, the four aboard the yacht White Cloud and Sprandel, had been sentenced by "Cuban revolutionary tribunals" to pay fines of $20,000 each.

The Cuban broadcast said these fines were reduced to $2,000 each. A similar reduction was made by American authorities for each of the four Cubans serving six month prison sentences at Eglin Federal Prison in Florida.

Their prison sentences also were suspended.

The Cuban fishermen were taken from Eglin prison Tuesday and transferred from a U.S. Coast Guard cutter to a Cuban fishing vessel near the Dry Tortugas islets in the Gulf, where they were arrested for fishing in U.S. territorial waters.

The first indication that an exchange was underway was the arrival in Miami Tuesday aboard a Cuban refugee flight of Sprandel, of Allentown, Pa.

Envoy Denies Statement on Agnew Visit

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

KUWAIT (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's bid for Kuwaiti backing for the Nixon administration's Middle East peace moves was overshadowed today by a controversy involving U.S. Ambassador John Walsh.

The English-language Daily News quoted Walsh as saying Agnew's visit was designed to help Republican political chances in 1972 and that Walsh had threatened to quit because of alleged pro-Israeli bias in the U.S. State Department.

"The ambassador says this is a complete fabrication," said Agnew's press secretary, Victor Gold.

The Daily News quoted Walsh as saying missions by Agnew and Secretary of State William P. Rogers to the Middle East "are merely intended to help the re-election of Mr. Nixon through helping Israel to keep the occupied Arab lands and consequently shower on him the blessings of powerful Zionists in New York and other parts of the United States."

Both Kuwait's English-language papers carried editorials accusing the United States of a pro-Israeli attitude.

Agnew meanwhile called on Kuwait's chief of state, Amir Sabah As-Salem As-Sabah. They sipped tea on a couch, then retired to an office for discussions. Agnew arrived Tuesday night.

The vice president's schedule today also included luncheon aboard the foreign minister's yacht and a cocktail party at the U.S. Embassy.

On Thursday Agnew goes to Jidda, Saudi Arabia, on the other side of the Arabian peninsula.

For purpose of his trip to the Western White House: a review of foreign policy in general and Vietnam policy in particular.

Nixon, who has dwelt increasingly in recent informal speeches on the state of the nation's spiritual and moral health, expanded on the theme Tuesday in talking—apparently without notes—to newspaper executives and broadcasters in Kansas City, Mo. He stopped there en route here for a two week stay.

While expressing confidence that everything will turn out right for the country, the chief executive likened the United States today to ancient Greece and Rome on the eve of their declines from greatness.

"I think of what happened to Greece and to Rome, and you see what is left—only the pillars. What has happened, of course, is that great civilizations of the past, as they have become wealthy, as they have let their will to live, to improve, they then have become subject to the decadence that eventually destroys the civilization."

"The United States is now reaching that period."

Nixon went on to say he was convinced Americans have the vitality, courage and strength "out through this heartland and across this nation" to infuse America with "moral and spiritual strength" as well as wealth and power.

"But I also know," he said, "that people need to be reassured. The people who can reassure them are opinion leaders, editors, television, radio commentators, teachers, even perhaps presidents and politicians."

"Don't let the problems of the moment obscure the great and good things that are going on in this country ... I would suggest to the editors and other opinion makers here: that from time to time, maybe once a month, that message might come through ..."

Planes Watch China Build Island Base

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. reconnaissance planes have been watching development of what may become a new Communist Chinese naval base in strategically located islands about 300 miles east of South Vietnam.

Pentagon reports tell of a large number of Chinese-escorted ship convoys carrying construction materials in recent months to the Paracel Islands in the South China Sea.

The Paracels are a group of coral islands whose ownership is disputed. Claims to them have been made by China, Taiwan, South Vietnam and the Philippines.

Pentagon analysts say they are uncertain why the Communist Chinese are increasingly active in the Paracels. But they suggest Peking may be building a naval complex to support the growing Chinese fleet in the South China Sea.

A base in the Paracels would put the Chinese in position to project their expanding naval forces more effectively in a sea area touching South Vietnam, the Philippines and Indonesia.

Sources said the Chinese have demonstrated, by warnings broadcast over Peking Radio, that they are sensitive about U.S. overflights in the Paracel area.

U.S. cameras have photographed construction of a ship berthing area, a jetty and more than 50 buildings, as well as dredging of a channel at Woody Island, one of the largest of the group.

Figures in Steel Talks Stay Silent

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and management negotiators in the steel industry dodged public comment on President Nixon's call for a "constructive settlement" as they settled down to the first round of contract talks today.

Working against an Aug. 1 contract deadline, the negotiating teams gathered in a top-secret atmosphere amid wide speculation their talks will lead to a strike.

Neither I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers, nor the industry team headed by Heath Larry of U.S. Steel Corp. offered any comment after an hour-long meeting with Nixon Tuesday.

The President impressed on the negotiators the need to reach a noninflationary settlement that will neither endanger the competitive position of the industry nor impede the nation's economic growth, a White House spokesman said.

But Nixon pulled back from setting a wage standard he would regard as acceptable or non-inflationary, said George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget and a former labor secretary.

The President said he hopes for hard bargaining that will avoid a strike while leading to a "constructive settlement" taking into account interests of the industry and the nation.

The union is reported seeking a wage increase of about 9 percent over three years, the same boost won by Steelworkers in the car and aluminum industries.

Nixon's economic advisers have been saying privately they expect a steel strike this year, but Shultz said "people's feelings have changed a lot in the past few months" about whether there will be a walkout.

Shultz said a steel strike would not have as great an impact on the economy as the General Motors walkout did last fall.

Nixon's session with the negotiators—his administration's first try at direct intervention in bargaining—was an attempt to focus on economic problems facing the steel industry, Shultz said.

And the White House released a study showing the problems are considerable. Profits in the industry declined by 42 percent last year to the lowest level in a decade, the study said.

Hoffa in New Bid to the Parole Board

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa and his successor as Teamsters President are emphasizing Hoffa's severance of ties with the world's largest union as the U.S. Board of Parole takes up his new bid for freedom.

Amid reports his resignation from the Teamsters presidency and other union offices might constitute the "new and substantial information" needed for a rehearing, Hoffa has asked the board for another chance at parole.

The seven-member board was to take up Hoffa's application today. Affirmative votes from two members are necessary to move up a review set for next June. The board denied Hoffa's second request for parole last March.

Parole Board Chairman George J. Reed stressed the board would not consider whether to free Hoffa at this meeting.

"We will be determining whether there is new and substantial information that was not before the board at its last en banc (full board) review of Mr. Hoffa's case," Reed said. "If two members feel that there is, we will set a date for a rehearing on the merits."

Should the board decide to give early review to Hoffa's case, the entire record will be considered with the new information, Reed said.

Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's hand-picked successor, said in a news conference Tuesday Hoffa will not run the union from behind the scenes if Fitzsimmons is elected to a five-year term at the Teamsters convention under way in Miami Beach, Fla.

"I don't know the anticipation of Hoffa, but if I'm elected, the power remains with me," Fitzsimmons said.

Just four days before a 90-day appeal period ran out, Hoffa's son, Detroit lawyer James P. Hoffa, filed an application for rehearing.

Neither the board nor Hoffa's associates would say what new information the June 26 application contained, but it came the day after Hoffa dropped all offices in Teamsters affiliates.

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters for 10 years, began serving a federal prison sentence in 1967 for jury tampering.

Shower for Birdelect Miss Denise Yocom, bride-elect of Terry Vines, was honored with a bridal shower at the Douglas Building on Friday, July 2. Attired in navy and white dotted voile, the honoree had a pink carnation corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Carrol Yocom, had white flowers.

On the serving table a beautiful antique centerpiece held pink candles, pink carnations and Queen Anne's lace. Punch was served with cookies and nuts.

A pink candle marked the table where 50 guests registered, and the many lovely gifts were displayed on a table decorated with a rice bag tree.

MRS. BRUCE E. MUNSON

The United First Methodist Church of Hope, was the scene for the Saturday evening July, third wedding of Miss Peggy Nell Franks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Franks and Lieutenant Bruce E. Munson, son of Lt. Colonel (retired) and Mrs. Orville O. Munson of Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

The nuptial music was presented by Mr. Luther Hollamon Jr., organist, and Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Royston soloist. The Reverend Norris Steele of Hope performed the ceremony before a back-ground of huckleberry greenery intermingled with blue candles. The Communion table held the gold cross and an open Bible with a white rose lying across the pages and complimented on either side with a candle tree. Volatile lights lined the altar rail interwoven with greenery. White baskets of blue and white daisies were placed at each end of the altar. Blue candles were placed on the choir rail, and on the pews of both aisles.

The candles were lighted by Miss Mary Ramsauer of Arkadelphia, Ark. and Miss Louan Newman of Hot Springs. They wore identical dresses and their flowers were wristlet corsages.

I've made a lot of decisions in this town because I won't allow my ideas to be watered down. The thing for me is to make the show thoroughly entertaining and still sneak in a little originality."

CONSIDER THE FRIGID HUSBAND

Dear Helen: My husband also has two personalities. Around others, you'd think we were very happy. But at home, he withdraws. He watches television or naps in another room. Only when I go to bed does he come out of his den. Then he stays up until he's sure I'm asleep.

We've been married only a short while but he's made love to me just eight times in a year. He says he loves me, but I have my doubts. I feel the only reason he married me was to have someone help pay the bills and keep the house clean.—TURNED OFF

Dear Helen:

Nothing marriage? Yes, I have one, too!

We were married when I was 23, and as each child came along, my husband pushed me a little farther into the background.

When I caress or kiss him, he tells me to stop. I could walk around nude but he wouldn't bat an eye.

Last night, like many nights, he played with the kids for so long that I went to the neighbor's. I was gone two hours and he didn't even notice I'd left.

Helen, I'm 30 and quite attractive, but only the kids matter to him. He uses them to keep me from getting close. Then, when we finally go to bed, he pretends he is already asleep.

I'm reaching the point where I'd almost throw myself at any available male. Should I give up?—MRS. NOTHING

Dear All of you:

And here are many wives with "frigid" husbands. Nothing hits a man so hard as the fear of impotency.

He'll find every excuse to hide his secret, especially from the one person who could help him most, if he'd confide in her: his wife. He can't let her know he's a failure—so he pretends disinterest, says he's "too tired," or even blames HER for "turning him off."

If you can persuade your husbands to discuss their problems, you're on the way to solving them. Once you break down that wall of fear, and they learn that many other men share their worries, they may not balk at the next step, which is specialized marriage counseling for both of you, Masters and Johnson style. Sometimes a cure (or at least a workable compromise) comes from simply reading the right books—and a good starter is a condensation of "Human Sexual Inadequacy."—H.

Dear Helen:

I agree with "Flat Broke." Why must face lifts and other cosmetic surgery be so expensive? Every time I look in the mirror I cry.—M.H.

Dear Helen:

Cosmetic surgery is "overpriced" because it isn't necessary for health or life. Also, dealing with vanity (not necessarily a bad trait) you take great risks. Many plastic surgeons prefer NOT to do so-called face lifts and other appearance aids because they get so many complaints. People expect miracles, when a surgeon can, at best, erase only about 10 years. We would rather restore broken faces or rebuild congenital defects than remove wrinkles and sags. And that's the truth. Thus the cost.—DR. X.

Yank Helping Children in Vietnam

NEW YORK (AP) — For 500 children who are usually homeless and nearly always hungry, the man to see in Da Nang, South Vietnam, is a lanky, handsome, 26-year-old American named Jim Trullinger.

He's easy to find, a conspicuous man at 6-foot plus next to the crowds of chattering children who seek him out.

Since shortly after arriving in Da Nang in 1969, Trullinger has run a youth hostel for 50 children, a volunteer project that dovetails with his job as an officer of the Agency for International Development.

In the two years he has run the hostel, Trullinger had cared for infants, bailed youngsters out of jail, reunited lost children with relatives and counseled youths emotionally hurt and hardened by a decade of war.

Although the children are Vietnamese, they are largely ignored by local government officials already burdened down by other problems, said Trullinger.

Trullinger's own involvement with the children began a few months after he arrived in Da Nang and set out to practice his Vietnamese on two shoe-shine boys. They told him about their residence, and he asked to see it.

"I went there and found about 15 boys living in an old, abandoned house at the end of an alley," he said. "The kids would just go there at night and sleep on the floor. The rest of the time, they'd be out in the streets trying to earn money to eat, or they'd steal food."

Although a newcomer himself, Trullinger appealed to local Vietnamese for help, and he persuaded an older student to move into the house.

Slowly, there were other improvements—sleeping mats on the floor, a regular meal every day, the beginnings of a school. And other children, approaching shyly or defiantly, asked to live there.

Says Golf Prizes Are Too Large

By RONALD THOMSON
SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Norman Von Nida, the ageless Australian wizard who's seen them come and go, says the superstars of world golf may be pricing themselves out of business.

Von Nida, once the stormy petrel of the circuits, said in an interview on the even of the British Open Championship at Royal Birkdale:

"This must be the peak year of these huge rewards in professional golf. From now on the prizes will become less—at least, that's what I believe."

"I'm not naming names, but some of the top fellows are taking too much and not putting enough back. They're pricing themselves out of the game."

Von Nida, a fit-looking 57, won the Queensland Amateur title in his native Australia at the age of 15. Then he went on to take the Australian professional championship in 1946, 1948, 1950 and 1951.

He came third in the British Open in 1948—the year that Henry Cotton won it for Britain. He competed in the Masters and U.S. Open many times.

Von Nida is regarded as one of the world's great analysts of golf. He said he's never seen anyone to match the legendary Ben Hogan.

"Ben was simply the best player I've ever seen. He's about 60 years old now, but in my view he could have won any of the big titles even four years ago."

Von Nida said by far the best of the current crop is Jack Nicklaus.

"If Jack stays in the game and develops the finesse to go with his power, he'll go into the history books as one of the greatest ever," said the wiry Australian.

Von Nida said his money in this years British Open was riding on Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, South Africa's Gary Player and two Australians—Peter Thomson and Bruce Devlin.

Says Reds Taking Over Tennis

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mike Davies, executive director of World Championship Tennis which is backed by Dallas millionaire Lamar Hunt, says the International Lawn Tennis Federation is "turning tennis over to the Communists."

The ILTF was expected to announce today at Stresa, Italy, that all professionals will be banned from ILTF tournaments.

Dallas Time Herald sports columnist Steve Perkins said Tuesday Davies told him: "The best remaining players are in the Communist block of Eastern Europe, led by Ilie Nastase of Romania and Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia. There are others, but I can't pronounce or spell their names."

"Those fellows are also contract professionals, you might say, since they are subsidized by their governments," Perkins reported Davies told him.

"They will take over the ILTF tournaments and reign at Wimbledon, Forest Hills and Paris."

Hunt's WCT has 32 of the world's best tennis players under guaranteed contracts that specify that WCT pays the

All-Star Outfield Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta's Hank Aaron and San Francisco's Willie Mays, two of baseball's all-time greats, and Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell, the major league leader in home runs and runs batted in, were named today as the starting outfield for the 1971 National League All-Star team.

Aaron, starting for the 12th time and appearing in his 20th All-Star game, was the top vote getter in both major leagues with 1,119,306 votes out of 2,396,895 ballots cast.

Mays, also named as a starter for the 12th time and playing in his 22nd All-Star game, was second in the NL with 1,084,887 votes.

Stargell collected 851,161 votes, far ahead of fourth-place finisher Lou Brock of St. Louis, who had 432,575.

San Francisco will be the only team with two starters for players' air fares to non-WCT tournaments they may enter. WCT wants to get their money back from sponsors of the big money tournaments.

"We offered a break-even figure," Hunt said. "I don't see how we can be fairer than that."

Wimbledon seeded only eight players which forced 14 of WCT's 32 to be knocked out of the tourney by fellow WCT members.

Perkins said Hunt told him he has no desire to force Wimbledon to go back to its policy of seeding the top 16.

"That's their business and they're entitled to run their tournament the way they see fit," Hunt said, adding that he thinks it is a bit short-sighted, however. WCT players won all titles at Wimbledon, including the consolation playoff for losers in the first two rounds.

At the end of the year's tour, WCT will dump its four bottom finishers and offer contracts to the top four amateurs.

the National Leaguers when they oppose the American League in the classic at Detroit in a night game July 13. In addition to Mays, the Giants' Willie McCovey will be at first base.

Completing the starting NL infield will be second baseman Glenn Beckert of Chicago, shortstop Bud Harrelson of New York and third baseman Joe Torre of St. Louis. The catcher will be Johnny Bench of Cincinnati.

Bench was the only other National Leaguer to granger more than a million votes. He received 1,060,651 in the balloting announced by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Bench, Aaron, Mays and Beckert are repeaters from the 1970 starting squad.

Third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore led the AL voting with 1,110,468. Picked to join Robinson in the infield were shortstop Luis Aparicio of Boston, second baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota and first baseman Boog Powell of Baltimore. Ray Fosse of Cleveland was selected as the catcher.

Chosen to start in the outfield were Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Frank Robinson of Baltimore.

Each of the starters selected by fans throughout the United States and Canada must play three innings.

The remainder of the teams, including pitchers, will be named by the managers—Cincinnati's Sparky Anderson for the National Leaguers and Baltimore's Earl Weaver for the Americans.

Norm Cash Second to Boog Powell

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Norm Cash is really going places this year—everywhere, in fact, but the All-Star game.

At least he doesn't plan on it. The hot-handed Detroit first baseman, who finished second to Baltimore's Boog Powell in the All-Star voting, believes American League Manager Earl Weaver won't choose him to the squad.

"I don't think he'll change his mind overnight, either," said Cash.

Weaver may have second thoughts, though, after what happened Tuesday night: Cash drove in six runs with two, three-run homers to lead the Tigers to a 12-7 romp over the New York Yankees.

To further spice the All-Star situation, Powell was taken out of action Tuesday night with a sore wrist as the Orioles split a two-night doubleheader with Washington. Baltimore won the first game 6-2 and Washington the second, 3-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2; the Oakland A's topped the Chicago White Sox 9-4; the Kansas City Royals nudged the Milwaukee Brewers 1-0 and the California Angels turned back the Minnesota Twins 7-5.

In the National League, it was Pittsburgh 5, Cincinnati 2; Montreal 5, New York 1; Atlanta 5, Philadelphia 2; Houston 5, San Francisco 2 and Chicago 3, Los Angeles 1.

Cash was runnerup for the Dream Game in Detroit next Tuesday despite an all-around better offensive performance than Powell's. He's hitting .290 to Powell's .220, has a league-leading 19 homers to Powell's 14 and has scored 37 runs to Powell's 36. Boog leads in runs batted in, 54 to 47.

The Tiger first baseman, having his best year so far, says he's read in newspapers that Weaver won't pick him as an All-Star sub "because he has a lot of guys who can also play first base."

Powell, meanwhile, was lifted from the second game after striking out in the first inning. He swung weakly at three pitches and twice dropped the bat in pain. Team doctors say Powell needs a few days rest and a new wrapping will be used on the sore right wrist next time out.

Cash unloaded a three-run homer in the second inning when the Tigers tagged New York starter Stan Bahnen for seven runs—their biggest single inning outburst of the year. Cash then crashed a three-run shot off Gary Jones in the fourth.

Don Buford, Brooks Robinson and Merv Rettenmund unleashed first inning home runs, pacing Baltimore to its first-game victory that snapped Washington's six-game winning streak.

The Senator's came back to take the nightcap as Orioles reliever Dick Hall let in the winning run with a wild throw on a bounce in the seventh inning. Lenny Randle scored Washington's winner when Hall fielded the ball hit by Toby Harrah and threw it past catcher Ellie Hendricks, muffing the chance at the plate.

Frank Howard had a home run for Washington in each game.

Reggie Smith struck his 17th homer in the fifth inning and John Kennedy tripled in another tally in a two-run sixth to lead Boston to its 12th triumph in 15 games.

Reggie Jackson lashed three hits, including his 17th homer, to help Oakland rout Chicago. Diego Segui checked the White Sox on one hit until relief pitcher Tom Bradley hit a fifth inning homer. But by then, the A's had the game nailed down after scoring six runs in the top of the inning.

Dick Drago hurled a six-hitter and Cookie Rojas got in the game's only run with a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning as Kansas City downed Milwaukee.

Ken McMullen tied the score with a two-run homer in the eighth inning and pinch-hitter Ken Berry followed with a two-run single as California defeated Minnesota.

Johnson Leads in British Open

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer
SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Howie Johnson, a little known U.S. pro tour regular from Palm Desert, Calif., shot into the early leader today in the British Open golf championship with a four-under-par 69.

The 45-year-old veteran, who has not won a tournament since 1959, fired six birdies over Royal Birkdale's 7,080-yard par 73 layout.

One stroke back Liang Huan-lu, a smiling Chinese golfer from Taiwan; John O'Leary of Ireland, and Tommy Horton of England.

Jack Nicklaus, the PGA champion and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, the co-favorites in the competition for the prestigious title of this ancient tournament, still were out on the course in balmy conditions with the sun streaming down.

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex., was the first U.S. player in the clubhouse. The tour veteran fired a 34-37-71, two over the pace.

Another regular on the pro tour, left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand, managed only a 77 after blowing to a 41 on the back nine.

Lu, 36, the holder of the Philippines and Thailand titles, posted five birdies as he overcame the wind blowing in from the Irish Sea.

Travelers Down San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Steve Evans pitched a four-hitter to give the Arkansas Travelers a 4-1 victory over San Antonio Tuesday night.

The victory was the sixth in a row for the Travelers, Arkansas is now 3½ games ahead of second-place Memphis in the Central Division of the Dixie Association.

Arkansas scored an unearned run in the first inning and the score remained 1-0 until the ninth inning.

The Travelers had a three-run ninth on a double by Wayne Dees and a wild throw by San Antonio pitcher Q. V. Lowe.

San Antonio's only run came in the bottom of the ninth on a triple by Bill North and a sacrifice by Pete LaCock.

In other Dixie action, Dallas-Fort Worth blanked Shreveport 2-0, Charlotte trimmed Asheville 7-4, Savannah edged Jacksonville 2-1, Memphis defeated Albuquerque 4-3 and Birmingham split a doubleheader with Amarillo, winning the first game 3-2 but dropping the nightcap 3-1.

Golfer Airs Views on Birkdale

By RONALD THOMSON
SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Royal Birkdale, where Arnold Palmer put the British Open Golf Championship on the map a decade ago, is a proud old lady with the habit of destroying reputations.

"By every standard this great old lady is as modern as a supersonic jet," says five-times winner Peter Thomson, who captured two of his Open titles on this capricious layout by the Irish Sea.

"But she can change her hat as quickly as your wife can buy a new dress."

Thomson calls Birkdale "a man size course but not a monster."

There are plenty of players who would dispute that judgment.

Birkdale is 7,080 yards of bumps and bounces, traps and terror.

It carries a par of 35-38—73 and if a man can beat that figure he's in the running for golf honors.

Thomson made it in 1954 with a four-round total of 263. Palmer took the title in 1961 with 284 and Thomson won it again with 285 in 1965.

The fascination of the British Open, which starts today—Lee Trevino says he'd trade one of his two U.S. Open titles for it—stretches back over a century.

Back in 1860 Willie Park of Musselburgh, Scotland, took the title at Prestwick. Tom Morris, senior partner of a father and son duo who dominated the game for a decade in the old days, won the title for the next two years.

But in the late 1950s the British Open was dying from the lack of glamor and big names from the American circuit.

Palmer brought it all back to life. So has Jack Nicklaus, defending his title he won at St. Andrews last year and first colared at Muirfield in 1966.

All the stars, with the exception of Palmer are here at Birkdale this year. Just look at a few of the other names—U.S. Masters champion Charles Coody, U.S. Open champion Trevino, former U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, South Africa's Gary Player—winner of this title in 1959 and 1968—and the homegrown hero Tony Jacklin, who held both the U.S. and British titles two years ago.

That's not the end of it. There's the tall left-hander from New Zealand Bob Charles, who won in 1963, Bruce Devlin, the Australian who graduated from being a plumber to a golf star, Tom Weiskopf, Frank Beard, Miller Barber, Dave Hill, Bob Murphy—and always dangerous Doug Sanders, who lost the Open last year by missing a putt only as long as your arm.

The face that fans really missed was that of Palmer, who probably is the most popular American golfer ever to hit British shores.

Patton Receives Medal

COL. WENTSCH AND SGT. PATTON

Master Sergeant Albert H. Patton of Hope distinguished himself in the performance of outstanding service to the United States as Noncommissioned Officer in Charge of the Airmen Dining Hall, Food Service Section, 443d Service Squadron, from 16 January 1970 to 31 May 1971. During this period, his devotion to duty, ingenuity, wealth of knowledge and consistent professionalism helped eliminate many problem areas and improve the standard of his organization. The singularly distinctive accomplishments of Sergeant Patton culminate a distinguished career in the service of his country, and reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force. Shown here is Col. Wentsch presenting medal to Sgt. Patton at Altus AFB, Okla. May 28, 1971 prior to his retirement after 21 years in the Air Force.

Hay Fever Getting Best of Ryun

STOCKHOLM (AP) — An unhappy, depressed and ailing Jim Ryun, world record holder in the mile, was uncertain today whether he would continue his European tour following a last-place finish and a 4:17.3 time in a meet here Tuesday night.

"Not even after the defeat in the 1968 Olympics did I feel as disappointed as tonight," said the former Kansas star.

"The first lap I thought I was running well, but after one and a half laps I just could not breathe," explained the hay fever-ridden Ryun.

"We will see Wednesday. If I decide to continue, my next race will be in Oslo July 14."

Ryun, owner of the world record of 3:51.1 and with a best mark of 3:54.98 this year, finished 10th, nearly 23 seconds behind 1968 Olympic 1,500-meter champion Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, who was timed in 3:54.4—fastest in the world this year.

Keino, meeting Ryun for the first time since upsetting him in the Olympic Games four years ago at Mexico City, said he was surprised not to see the lean Kansas runner when he glanced back on the third lap.

Sweden's Ulf Hoberg finished second in 3:57.6—a Swedish record. He was followed by John Mason of the United States in 3:59.2 and Sweden's Anders Gaerderud in 3:59.8.

Sheriff's 13-0 Over CBC's

In the first game of last night's Little League action, James Motor Company was downed 9-1 by the Lions. Sheriff's ran over CBC's 13-0 in the second game. The last game saw Barry's victorious over Hope Auto; the score in that game was 13-0. There were no homers in any of the three games.

Ray Fosse Sidelined by Injury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians said today that Ray Fosse, chosen as the All-Star catcher for the American League, has suffered a torn ligament in his left hand.

The Indians said it was not known how long Fosse would be sidelined. He suffered the injury Monday, batting in the first inning against Washington.

Fosse said, "My hand swelled overnight and right now I can't even make a fist, let alone grip a bat or ball. I hope I won't have to back out of the All-Star game, but I don't know."

Split With Pros in Tennis World

STRESA, Italy (AP) — The annual assembly of the International Lawn Tennis Federation is expected to ratify Wednesday a split with the world's top professional stars that would bar players such as Australians John Newcombe and Rod Laver from the major 1972 tournaments, including Wimbledon.

World Championship Tennis, the organization led by American millionaire Lamar Hunt that has 32 professionals under contract, is demanding more money to take part in the ILTF open tournaments and has threatened to promote its own tournaments in 1972 in competition with the ILTF.

"There must be an agreement," an Italian federation source said. "Wimbledon is probably the only tournament that could survive a couple of years with out the professionals. But what about the others?"

"The only defense for the ILTF would be that all national federations bar the professionals from their courts, but this is highly unlikely."

Open tournaments to include the professionals were authorized in 1968 by the ILTF and now include the national championships of the United States, Australia, France and Italy, besides Wimbledon and a number of other tournaments.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Pittsburgh 5-2 Over Cincinnati

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

While Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis doubts that he'll start the All-Star Game, New York's disabled Jerry Kossman just wonders when he'll be able to pitch again.

And that pretty much sums up the fortunes of the Pirates and Mets over the past few days. With Ellis, 14-3, notching his 12th straight triumph, the Pirates downed Cincinnati 5-2 Tuesday night and opened a 5½-game spread in the National League East over the Mets, who lost to Montreal 5-1.

Elsewhere, Houston continued San Francisco's slide 5-2, the Chicago Cubs beat Los Angeles 3-1 and Atlanta beat Philadelphia 5-2. St. Louis and San Diego were not scheduled.

In the American League, Baltimore whipped Washington 6-2 but dropped the nightcap 3-2. Boston edged Cleveland 3-2. Detroit bombed the New York Yankees 12-7. Oakland trounced the Chicago White Sox 9-4. Kansas City nipped Milwaukee 1-0 and California shaded Minnesota 7-5.

Asked if he anticipated being the NL starter next Tuesday against Oakland's sensational Vida Blue, Ellis replied, "I doubt if they'll start a brother from the American League and a brother from the National. Besides," he continued, "Sparky Anderson doesn't like me."

Anderson, the Cincinnati manager who will pilot the NL All-Stars, was puzzled by that.

"I don't know where he got that idea," Anderson said. "I have never spoken to him and he's never spoken to me. As I understand it, he is supposed to pitch again Sunday. That would give him only one day's rest for the All-Star Game. I realize the Pirates are in a division race and I would no more risk hurting Ellis than the man in the moon."

Roberto Clemente of the Bucs tripled in the sixth inning—his 2,800th career hit—and scored on Richie Hebner's sacrifice fly, breaking a 1-1 tie. Al Oliver's two-run triple wrapped it up in the eighth.

Ellis worked seven innings before a bruised shin—he was struck by Tommy Helms' single in the fourth—forced him to the sidelines. He's also had a touch of elbow trouble lately.

But he's continued to pitch and win. Kossman is a different story.

The Mets' once-prized southpaw lasted only one inning against the Expos, who clipped him for two runs on Ron Hunt's single, Ron Woods' triple and Rusty Staub's sacrifice fly. Then he went on the 21-day disabled list.

The Mets knew Kossman was hurting and had Gary Gentry warming up from the start.

"The muscles around the shoulder blade and side are all tight. Sometimes it gets so bad it even affects my breathing," said Kossman, who has had problems for several years and lost his blazing fast ball along the way. "My arm feels good and so does my shoulder. It's just that the muscles are tight and I can't get them loose."

Bill Stoneman's six-hitter, he fanned nine—doomed the punyless Mets to their sixth loss in seven games.

The Giants, who only swoon in June but apparently die in July, dropped their third in a row and seventh in 10 games. Houston jumped on Ron Bryant for three runs in the first inning—Bob Watson had a two-run single and scored on Jim Wynn's single—and Jack Billingham and George Culver limited the Giants to six hits, including Bobby Bonds' 19th homer.

For a change, though, the Giants didn't lose ground to Los Angeles—they lead the NL West by 3½ games—when the Cubs ended the Dodgers' five-game winning streak.

Ferguson Jenkins effectively scattered 11 hits for his 12th victory and an error by shortstop Maury Wills in the third inning opened the gates for three unearned runs.

Jenkins singled and Don Kessinger was safe on the error. After Jenkins was picked off second, Glenn Beckert singled

Iowa Star Signed by Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics say they have signed University of Iowa star Fred Brown, their No. 1 draft choice, to a "multi-year contract."

The action ended more than three months of negotiations between the National Basketball Association team and Brown, who also was drafted by the Kentucky Colonels of the and Billy Williams hit a sacrifice fly for the first run. The others were driven in by Ron Santo's double and a single by Brock Davis.

Hot-hitting Mike Lum snapped a tie with a two-run double in the fifth, helping the Braves end the Phillies' four-game winning skein. Hal King homered as Atlanta dealt Rick Wise his third straight loss since his no-hitter against Cincinnati.

American Basketball Association.

The Colonels traded their rights to the 6-foot-3 guard to the Virginia Squires, but Brown, who was 23 Wednesday, said he signed with the Sonics, rather than the Squires, for the money and the prestige of playing in the NBA.

Terms of Brown's contract weren't disclosed, but the figures are believed to be about $50,000 a year, and the contract has a no-cut clause.

Brown seemed perplexed and said he "hadn't heard that," when asked what he thought when Paul Snyder, owner of the Buffalo Braves, said Brown had been offered to the Braves to settle the Spencer Haywood case. Haywood was drafted by Buffalo even though the NBA had decided Haywood was Sonics property.

Bob Houbregs, general manager of the Sonics, said no deal had been made with the Braves.

Dallas Green, former Phillies pitcher, is assistant director of the Philadelphia farm system.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Child Should Know About the Family

Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have been married twice and have two children. I lost my first husband and my daughter is from that marriage. I now have a little boy from my second marriage. My little girl is 4½ years old and my first husband's parents often come to see her. She is too little to understand what really happened to her daddy but her grandparents seem to want to tell her things about him and she is a very mixed-up little girl. I have asked them not to say anything to her but it seems that they don't care to keep quiet. What can I do?

Dear Reader—The simplest thing in most complex situations is just to tell the truth. I think you have to be honest with children and this begins from the time they are old enough for you to have any verbal communication with them at all. Eventually, they will find out the truth and usually this is not as great a shock as finding out that they have been deceived by their loved ones.

I don't mean that it is necessary to go into traumatic details, but I think all questions should be answered as simply and directly as possible. Your problem reminds me of what sometimes happens to adopted children. They do very well when they are told from birth that they are adopted; but if they are not and learn the truth later in life, they often have a very severe emotional shock. I presume that your little girl does know that her real father is dead and, certainly, it is better that she understands this early in life.

Children are often much stronger than their parents realize. I believe that if you follow the course of just being truthful and honest there really shouldn't be any problem about what the child's grandparents tell her.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a 40-year-old woman with a weight problem. Can I reduce safely by consuming liquids only—such as juices and broth? I take one high-potency vitamin tablet daily and one organic iron tablet with vitamin B-12 three times a day. It is much easier for me to lose weight this way than it is by eating foods. I always end up with too many calories.

Dear Reader—You probably can lose weight that way, depending on what is in your juice and broth. I don't recommend it particularly, unless you are under a physician's care. Any weight you lose will probably come right back after you resume your usual eating habits. Clearly, you can't live on juice and broth forever. The key to weight control, as opposed to lose a little—gain a little, is a basic change in living habits. This includes what you eat and how much physical activity you do. Why don't you just cut out the fat, the sugar and the bread and walk a mile each day? Then see where you are in about three months.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

When today's hand was played at the Louisville Regional in April, every South player made the small slam in spades, but practically no one bid it. Dave Siebert of Little Rock and Jack Blair of Tulsa did and we feel their sequence is worth study.

Dave's spade overall was normal and Jack decided to explore with a two-diamond cue bid. He was going to wind up in spades, but wanted to explore slam possibilities. Dave's two-spade bid temporized and Jack tried three clubs. The cue bid had initiated a forcing sequence, so he wasn't worried about being dropped there.

Dave's hand had suddenly improved, so he bid three diamonds. Jack was not ready to raise spades as yet so he tried three hearts to get further information. Dave showed his club support. He didn't know if Jack really had clubs, but he didn't care because Jack would know.

This club raise was enough for Jack to take full charge. He Blackwooded and then bid six spades. The bidding is well worthy of study. It is complicated, but expert bridge is.

There are two other points of interest. If Dave had really been void of diamonds, he would have responded six diamonds to the Blackwood four no-trump. If Dave held two diamonds and one heart, he wouldn't have cue-bid diamonds at all.

Teamsters Moving From Hoffa Shadow

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Teamsters union, under the new leadership of Frank E. Fitzsimmons, is visibly moving out from under the long shadow of James R. Hoffa's troubled reign.

A special message from President Nixon, a warmly received visit by one of his Cabinet members and friendly speeches by AFL-CIO leaders would have been unthinkable under the now imprisoned Hoffa.

But they all happened at the convention of the two million-member Union this week.

"It is all too often taken for granted that the daily efforts of Teamsters union members are a cornerstone of the American economic structure," said Nixon's message to Fitzsimmons. It was read to the 2,100 delegates by Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson.

"The confidence that I have in your future course, reinforced by our useful discussions, assures me that by working together we can make steady advances in our common objectives," Nixon said, after listing the goals of a healthy economy and jobs at good wages.

Many Teamsters had long chafed silently under adverse publicity the union received from Hoffa's 10-year fight with federal courts, Congress, the White House and other labor leaders until he landed in prison, on four years ago for jury tampering and mail fraud.

Kiwanians Told About Convention

At Tuesday's meeting of Hope Kiwanis Club, the club president, Dale Franks, reported on the recent Kiwanis International Convention in San Francisco, California from which he has just returned.

There were 5,183 Kiwanians from all over the United States registered in the House of Delegates. Other non-delegate Kiwanians and their families swelled the total attendance to over the 15,000 mark. There are now 37 Countries represented in Kiwanis International.

The underlying theme of this year's convention, coming through in some manner from each speaker was, "Americanism," and a concern for our country.

Dr. Billy Graham was one of the principal speakers. The title of his address was "A Salute to America." A taped copy of Dr. Graham's speech will be released in the near future to be played for the local club and others who might be interested.

Kiwanis is dedicated to maintaining the principles on which our country was founded.

"Attendance at a Kiwanis International Convention will give any Kiwanian a new appreciation of the real worth of the organization known as Kiwanis International, and will give one pride in being a part of such an organization," said President Franks.

Other Hope Kiwanians attending this year's convention were Dean Murphy and K.G. Hamilton.

spectability that is beautiful," Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons of St. Louis said of the warm attention from the Nixon administration.

Nixon had also visited Fitzsimmons and other members of the Teamsters Executive Board at a meeting here June 21, the day Hoffa resigned and two weeks before the convention opened.

"That kind of recognition of our union is progress in any league," said Teamsters Secretary-Treasurer Thomas E. Flynn.

Hoffa was given his due for his past contributions to the union in carefully worded comments and statements by union officials, but it seemed clear the Hoffa era is over.

Amid rumors that Hoffa may soon be paroled, Fitzsimmons flatly discounted rumors that Hoffa would run the Teamsters from behind the scenes.

Laos Presses Two-prong Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — Laotian government forces pressed a two-prong offensive against the Plain of Jars today as the war in Vietnam faded to a virtual standstill.

Informed sources in Vientiane said six battalions of Gen. Vang Pao's Meo tribesmen—who are trained, paid and equipped by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency—seized the southern rim of the plain, while Air America helicopters carried commando teams to the airfield in the center of the plain 103 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Air America is a charter company under contract to the U.S. government, and its fleet of planes and helicopters provides the backbone of the military logistic system in Laos.

The Plain of Jars has changed hands numerous times in the past decade, with Laotian government forces usually taking it during rainy seasons and the North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao driving them out when the weather improves. The main east-west highway across central Laos passes through the plain.

Military sources said the Communists' supplies are low because of the monsoon mud, and they have put up little resistance to the new offensive. But they reported some North Vietnamese units have been observed moving south toward the plain.

The Pathet Lao radio claimed Tuesday that Thai troops supported by intensive American bombing were participating in the operation. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said there has been no increase in American air strikes in northern Laos.

Congress Working to Renew Draft

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With no apparent break in the deadlock over a war-pullout amendment, House-Senate conferees faced new efforts today to work out a two-year renewal of the draft which expired a week ago.

Although conference spokesmen have announced Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment urging a U.S. pullout from Indochina in nine months is the only unresolved issue, House backers of a volunteer army were pressing for reconsideration of a $2.4-billion military pay compromise.

Several conferees said there have been no informal efforts during the week to work out a compromise on Mansfield's amendment, which would not be binding on the President.

Mansfield told newsmen Tuesday he "would be glad to look at any change" to his amendment but said no conferees had approached him with such compromise proposals.

He said he still wants his proposal as is and "it is an open question at this time" whether he would use his considerable influence to cut off a Senate filibuster to any softening of his amendment by the conferees.

But Mansfield said he will not personally filibuster even if the conferees drop his amendment entirely.

The Mansfield amendment, as passed 57 to 42 by the Senate, urges President Nixon to negotiate an immediate cease-fire with Hanoi and then negotiate pullout of all U.S. troops nine months after enactment of the draft bill if American prisoners are released.

Cancer Bill Headed for Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to focus the fight against cancer headed for Senate passage today, creating a new, independent government agency.

The bill is a compromise of a measure introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in January and a proposal by President Nixon in May.

The Conquest of Cancer Agency would take over personnel of the 34-year-old Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in nearby Bethesda, Md.

It would have independent status, reporting directly to the President, a feature sponsors say will give great impetus to the search for causes and cures of all forms of cancer.
